WORK HISTORY

COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS ENGINEER

09/2007 to CURRENT

HM Forces | Stafford, Staffordshire

In Barracks:

Testing, maintaining and frequently upgrading bespoke Military systems, ensuring that the equipment is operationally effective and ready for forward deployment at all times.

Teaching, mentoring and developing team members to maintain the standards and knowledge base of the team as a whole.

Manage approx. 25-30 Troop personnel daily to ensure all tasks were completed in an effective and timely manner.

On Operations:

Provide CIS equipment and services to a large number of staff users across all ranks and services to maintain operational effectiveness.

Maintain up to 5 networks on a daily basis to ensure staff users are able to work effectively with minimal interference to network capabilities, whilst also providing a secure link back to UK departments.

Add, remove and move network infrastructure to tailor the needs of the working staff environment.

Ensure that outdoor CIS equipment is protected from the extreme elements without effecting network strength.

Manage real time faults, issues and tasking for all department team members to ensure the continued high standards were being upheld throughout.
